Think About These Things

To where does your mind go? To where does it wander?

When you have moments of quiet, moments of silence, to where does your mind go?

To the good things God has done? To His faithfulness in the past and His promises for the future?

Or...does it go to the hurts of your past or the worries for your future?

In Paul's final exhortations to the Philippians, Paul's final commands and encouragements to the Philippian church, he speaks plainly and practically about our thinking:

Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable - if anything is excellent or praiseworthy - think about these things. Philippians 4:8

Whatever is true, noble or right. Whatever is pure, lovely or admirable. Whatever is excellent or praiseworthy. Think about these things.

Yes, our minds go. Our minds run. Our minds wander.

But...they don't have to go to worry. Or hurt. Or anxiety. Or frustration.

We can, and should, think on, as Paul says, things that are true and noble and pure and praiseworthy.

Not sure how? Start with one thought. Just one. One simple, magnificent, praiseworthy truth of God's Word and...think on it. Meditate on it. Roll it around on your tongue. Read it when you wake up. Speak of it as you go about your day. Remind yourself of it as you go to sleep.

You'll be amazed how your mind will change. How your attitude will change. How everything about you will change!

Yes, my brothers and sisters, let us choose. Let us choose to think on things that are true and noble, right and pure.

Yes, my brothers and sisters, let us choose to think on these things!
