Go.

As I paged through one of my old journals today, I happened upon an entry I'd written after returning from my first mission trip.

It started...with notes. Notes of holding babies and building stoves. Notes of playing with kids and praying for healing.

But it continued...with a testimony. My testimony. Of how God spoke to me and started me on a journey. This journey. Of learning to speak. Of learning to be bold and courageous. Of learning to trust that the words He gives me are the words He wants spoken.

You see, there are days when I wonder. Days when I question. Days when I forget that it's God who's called me into the places, the spaces, where He has me.

And I'm not the only one.

You see, God has called you to specific spaces, specific places, for His honor and glory, too! Places for you to minister. Places for you to speak. Places for you to pray.

Can it be tough sometimes? Can it be scary? Absolutely. But it's worth it!

Worth it to walk hand-in-hand with Jesus and heart-to-heart with His Holy Spirit, learning to rely on Him! His strength. His power. His wisdom. His grace.

So, go ahead! Speak up! Pray! Go! Minister! Do the works God has created for you to do! Bring the Kingdom, God's Kingdom, here on earth as it is in Heaven!

For we are God's handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do. Ephesians 2:10

Look, I have put My words in your mouth. Jeremiah 1:9

Go and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit. Teach these new disciples to obey all the commands I have given you. And be sure of this: I am with you always, even to the end of the age. Matthew 28:19-20 NLT
