

Takwane Hybrid Bible Has Been Dedicated and Distributed!

Thank you for praying for our trip to Mozambique and the dedication of the Takwane Bible. We had a wonderful celebration together with the translators, reviewers, consultants, administrators, government representatives and local pastors

We were able to find good truckers to help with the distribution of the Bibles. We delivered boxes to 14 different locations throughout the Takwane area and left some boxes at the Bible Society office in the Provincial capital.

Jeff put the Takwane Scriptures on numerous cell phones. We are praying that those folks will share the files with their friends as smart phones become more common. Thank you for all of your prayers. We felt fortified for each challenge that came up. We believe God was honored through the whole thing. Please pray with us that the Scripture will transform lives.

Bible archiving for easy access

Jeff's department hosted a workshop in Europe to train translators working in Eurasia to properly format and archive translations from that part of the world. The workshop was just before our trip to Mozambique, so Jeff could not attend. Colleagues who were there said that the workshop was a success, and many more people responsible for Bible translations in Eurasia now know how to properly archive their work in the Digital Biblical Library (DBL).

What's next?

Jeff will get back to making the online course for the new version of Paratext. The roll out is planned for early October. He will go to Thailand at that time to help train trainers from all over the world.

Peg is going to continue with her translation consulting work and Greek study. She has started another course of treatment for anaemia. Please pray for her health to improve.

Until all have heard,
Jeff, Peg and Maggie Jo
