Trust Me

Trust Me.

Two little words, but oh the emotions they elicit!

For anyone who's ever been hurt, and I dare say, that's all of us at one time or another, those 2 little words can cause quite a stir.

Yet...that's exactly what we are called to do!

To trust.

Trust God.

Trust that He is good.

Trust that He is sovereign.

Trust that He is loving and gracious and kind.

And in the process of learning to trust Him, really trust Him, we begin to heal.

What? How can that be? we think. I can't imagine! That can't possibly be true!

You mean that those areas where I've been hurt in the past, those areas where I have decided to shut down, to close off, to simply not trust anyone anymore, you mean those areas can actually begin to heal?

I don't know, we think incredulously, sounds too good to be true.

Oh, but it is true! It's true!

I know, in the natural it sounds wild. It sounds crazy! But there's really nothing natural about it.

It's not natural. It's miraculous.

Have areas in your life where you are struggling to trust?

I implore you, today. Take that first step. Or that next step. And choose to trust God just a little more. Just a little bit more.

He is faithful. He is faithful. And He's right there. Calling to you.

He knows every hurt. He sees every wound.

Allow Him to be your healer. Allow Him to pour His love, His grace, His oil of healing on every part of you. Not just the easy ones. All of them. For He loves you.

He. Loves. You.

Those who know the LORD trust Him because He will not leave those who come to Him. Psalm 9:10 NCV

LORD, I trust You. I have said, "You are my God." Psalm 31:14 NCV

Some trust in chariots, others in horses, but we trust the LORD our God. Psalm 20:7 NCV

When I am afraid, I will trust You. Psalm 56:3 NCV
